In Order to Sue an Enemy, He Says

He has stated his case to the Russian and American consuls, and has had a conference with the firm of Muller & Mathews, lawyers, with a view to taking civil action against the alleged oppressors in Washington.

From the story Zerkind tells, it is apparent that he had many troubles.

council at San Juan, P. R. Mrs. Borda is a sister of Gov. Sprague's wife. The property which has been in the Sprague family since 1810 consists of 35 acres of land and a picturesque dwelling containing more than 40 rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Borda will spend at least six months of every year on the estate while Gov. and Mrs. Sprague will make their permanent home there.

At Cincinnati, Gov. Sprague's first wife, who was the daughter of Hon. P. Chase, Lane's secretary of the treasury and subsequently chief justice of the United States, and more than $500,000 in property, including property which she inherited from her father. Here also occurred the even- ing in which the name of Senator Ross Buckline was so frequently mentioned, and the situation resulted which ended in the divorce of the Spragues.

Her Trunks Looted of Their Treasure

In 1901 Johnson advertised for a wife and Mrs. Brown answered. After several letters Johnson came here, and on December 5, 1901, the marriage ceremony was performed. When the license was taken out, Johnson, gave his age as 51 and Mrs. Brown as 18.

Mrs. Brown ran a dressmaking establishment here, which she sold for $500. They went to New York, where Johnson deserted her, after getting the $500, telling her he had been

After securing the money Johnson left the hotel, sending a note to the hotel chamber by the bellboy, asking him to meet him in Buffalo. She went to Buffalo, but could not find any trace of her husband. Meanwhile her trunk had disappeared. They were later found in a western city, but had been riddled of all their valuables.

Mrs. Brown returned to this city and attempted to re-engage in the dress-making business. Her health failed her, however, and she was forced to go to her daughter's home in New York. Mrs. Brown secured a divorce from Johnson in 1906 in this city, on the ground of desertion, and died soon after.

An alarm from box 215 shortly after 11 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a fire in some kindling wood in the boiler room of the James A. Thompson box factory at the end of Meadowcroft street. Despite the fact that the blaze was a small one the firemen remained about the place for almost an hour after the fire was extinguished in order to be on hand if it should happen to break out again.

SAILORS EXCLUDED

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—Mayor John Miller has written a letter to Commander Field on the grounds that the sailors from the Yorktown should have been excluded from a dance hall because of their uniform but saying that there is no ordinance making such exclusion a violation of law. "The proprietor of the hall said bluntly that he did not want uniformed sailors in his door," Commander Field told the board of the city. "He said that the side of the men and wrote a letter complimentary to the mayor."

THE AUTO CLUB

Is Making Arrangements for Liability Insurance

At the meeting of the board of governors of the Lowell Automobile club held late yesterday afternoon the question of liability insurance was taken up. President Heinze, who returned from the west during the day, was present and informed the governors of the success which he had during his trip and spoke of the great enthusiasm throughout the country over the coming carnival.

Mr. Heinze said that the first expenditure of money to be made must be for liability insurance. Thomas C. Lee, one of the members of the governing board offered propositions, and finally got in touch with the Maryland Casualty company of Boston. As a result of the telephone conversation the officers of the casualty company will be in Lowell today and the matter will be discussed.

The Lowell Automobile club is an incorporated body. It could not be affiliated with the Automobile Association of America unless articles of incorporation had been taken out. To protect itself the local club must carry a heavy liability insurance for the five days of the carnival. Anything in the nature of an accident, minor or major, must be paid for by the company assuming the liability. Notwithstanding the fact that many recent races have been run with no untoward incidents in connection with them, the Three A's will not give its sanction to a contest unless the club is properly insured. Mr. Heinze was opposed to the expenditure of a cent until the insurance had been clapped on.

TRUNK THIEVES

Are Making Hauls in Boston

BOSTON, July 15.—It became known yesterday that bogus expressmen have been operating in this city with more or less success for the past few months. It was also discovered that a young Wellesley student, narrowly escaped losing two trunks, which, with the contents, were valued at about $500.

Strange men have been frequenting the railroad terminals in this city, and, pretending to be expressmen, have succeeded in securing trunks, bags and grips of considerable value.

The case that brought the matter to the attention of the police was that of the Wellesley girl. Some six weeks ago she finished her studies and, with her father and brother, was returning to her home in the west.

The party checked the two trunks from Wellesley to Boston, with directions to have them transferred from the south to the north station. When they passed through the gates into the south station they were met by a man who represented himself to be an expressman, and who said his wagon was outside the station. The father of the girl handed the supposed expressman the checks for the trunks, and requested that they be delivered at the north station without delay and checked on the western train that would leave about an hour later.

TORPEDO BOAT

Was Sunk in Collision Last Night

LONDON, July 15.—The British submarine torpedo boat, C 11, was sunk in collision late last night with its crew of 16 men locked inside according to a wireless message received at Portsmouth.

Another submarine, E 11, was damaged in the collision but the crew was saved.

No complete report of the accident yet has been received but the latest advice from Sheerness whence assistance was sent indicates that some members of the crew of C 11 have been saved.

MISS STEWART SAYS SUTTON WAS NOT KILLED IN QUARREL OVER HER

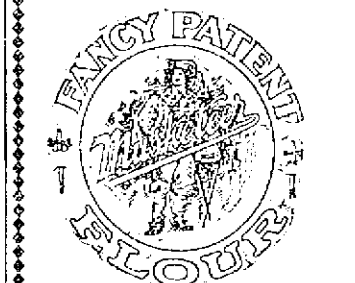

NEW YORK, July 15.—From an alleged summer resident, Harry Bass, Muskoka Lake, Ont., there came to New York in special dispatches last night an interview with Miss Mary E. Stewart of Pittsburgh, the 21 year old girl, who was with Lieut. James N. Sutton not long before his death.

Her most important declaration was that she was sure that Young Sutton had not been killed in a quarrel over her. She was equally emphatic in denying any knowledge of the circumstances which preceded his death.

TELEGRAPH COS. WILL NOT CONTEST THE NEW LAW

BOSTON, July 15.—The telegraph companies will not contest the new law passed by the legislature which provides that no charge shall be made by the companies for the words showing the time on each message, thus ensuring prompt service.

After the act was passed by the legislature it was the general belief that both the telegraph companies would fight it.

MUST PAY DUTY

On Jewelry She Received From Crowned Heads of Europe

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—James P. McLaughlin and the jewelry store from which he received the jewelry which he confessed stealing from Mrs. Anna Abbott of Philadelphia, are now in Philadelphia, to which city they were taken yesterday by a detective. But the "Globe" reports that the jewelry was not taken from the store, but from the home of Mrs. Abbott, who was known to have a large sum before she received the jewelry, valued at $20,000. Agents of the U. S. treasury department in Philadelphia were so surprised at the statement that she had brought $20,000 worth of jewelry to this country without paying duty, that a treasury agent is investigating.

Mrs. Abbott is supposed to be in the laundry and said that she had taken her jewelry across the ocean three times without paying duty as she said the jewelry consisted of presents from foreign crowned heads, and "Eloise" as Mrs. Abbott was known, said that the customs agents had passed her jewelry free of duty when they saw the letters she carried from the donors.

McLaughlin said he met Mrs. Abbott through a matrimonial advertisement inserted by her in a Philadelphia newspaper which reads as follows:

COL. MORIARTY HAS BEEN ELECTED COLONEL FOR LIFE

CHICAGO, July 15.—Col. Daniel Moriarty was elected colonel of the 7th infantry for life yesterday. The election was the first under the new military code of the Illinois National guard which became effective July 1 and which provides that all commissioned officers of the guard should hold office for life unless retired for cause or by reaching the age limit of 61 years.

VERY much to her troubles by forgetting her home address.

Unable to speak a word of English and terrified by the hostile of the busy streets, the girl wandered about the city until a policeman noticed her distress.

He tried to first communicate with the girl by means of signs, but gave it up and escorted her to the "Canaan" building. The officials of the Federal Jewish Charities learned that the girl's uncle, with whom she had been living, was named "Davidson."

The plot was thickened, because that name was not in the directory. Finally some bright person thought of looking for the names which began with "David" and found that Samuel Davidson lives at 22 Davis street. This man proved to be the uncle and Miss Schwartz was sent home rejoicing.

The girl announced to the police through an interpreter before starting for home with a guide that she intended to learn English before making another attempt to secure a position.

WITHDRAWS APPEAL

EDINBURGH, July 15.—The appeal brought by Mrs. John Alexander Stirling against the decree of divorce in favor of Mr. Stirling handed down in March of this year by Lord Guthrie, was today withdrawn from court.

Mrs. Stirling was Miss Clara Taylor of New Jersey. She married Mr. Stirling three years ago and counter suits for divorce were brought by the couple the latter part of last year, but Mrs. Stirling's petition was denied.

GALICAN WRESTLER COMING

CHICAGO, July 15.—It is announced that Zbyson, the Galician wrestler, has been secured to appear in this city and will start for this city soon. Zbyson was first mentioned as the opponent to be brought here for Gatch because the Huckschmidt match was arranged. He is 24 years old, five feet, nine inches tall and weighs 250 pounds.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was

15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Maria H. Redy, business manager, and Alfred P. Harte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

What will the Smithsonian Institute gain by preserving the hides of animals that can be seen in the menagerie of any circus?

It is announced that a counterfeit $20 bill is in circulation. The great bulk of the fakers have nothing to fear as they seldom see a $20 genuine or counterfeit bill.

The movement in some Massachusetts cities to compel men in the employ of the city to pay their poll tax is right and proper. They should be forced to pay.

When will our street car conductors find it unnecessary to shout "Go out by the forward door." The intelligent public should realize that time is saved by passing from a street car by the forward door. It prevents a jam in the rear door and is better for everybody.

WET DOWN CONGESTED DISTRICTS.

The fire department should be required to wet down the congested districts during the hot spell. Some of the poor people suffer terribly during the day, and the wetting of their houses and the streets in front would be a welcome relief. It would also make their abode more tolerable for the night.

ANOTHER LIFE LOST.

There has been another drowning in one of the canals. During the course of the summer the number is sure to run up to from six to ten. That is the number of lives lost in Lowell annually, because the people have no safe place in which to go bathing. It is one more reminder of the need of a system of public baths.

THAW WILL SOON BE FREE.

Harry K. Thaw, who escaped electrocution for the murder of Stanford White because certain alienists pronounced him insane, is likely soon to be set free. Everybody knew he wasn't insane when he committed the crime, and now the alienists will again deliver him, this time from the confinement prescribed for "an insane murderer." It is really strange how these alienists can change their minds, especially for a client who has plenty of money.

THE EVOLUTION OF POLITICAL HORN-BLOWERS.

Is the Live law responsible for the evolution of the political horn-blower or is this noisy political genus responsible for discrediting that law? This is one of the upmost questions of the hour.

Representative Garcelon of Newton is opposed to direct nominations. He thinks that the man with the loudest voice, the man who most severely denounces existing conditions and makes the most radical promises of reform can capture the nomination even though he be the most irresponsible and most unreliable individual in the community. He is right.

The present method affords too many facilities for galling the people, for imposing upon the credulous and deceiving the voters. The reason is, that while the dishonest candidate will go around among the people making speeches in public places, protesting always his eminent honesty even when he is known to be a cunning and deceitful rascal, the honest and desirable candidate will not stoop to the street corner canvass; he will not make false charges against any particular interest, or any particular department in order to secure election under false pretences. Neither will he adopt the house to house method of canvassing votes, and if he adopts none of these methods, then he will have no chance of election, as the voters stand upon their dignity in accordance with the established custom and state that they will vote for the man who thought enough of their votes to come and ask for them.

Under the present method the people have the power to make their candidates, but they are not using it in such a way as to secure the best results. The people must soon discover how unscrupulously they have been humbugged, not only here but elsewhere in some of the men they have elevated to honorable positions. It may take a year or two to bring them to their senses but the day will come when they will realize how egregiously they have been mistaken.

The old convention method of nominating was open to its objection in being controlled mainly by politicians but these conventions nominated better candidates than does the new method. The reason is that the conventions were made up of delegates who knew the candidates, whereas not one-tenth of the voters know the real character or the ability of the candidates they vote for.

In order to make the direct method of nomination a success the people will have to guard against demagogues; they will have to turn down the candidate who makes a loud bombast to secure the voters into the belief that things are in a fearful condition and call for just such a man as he is, and then right.

The modern political campaign is more a showman than a public official. He has the press and radio boom him on all possible occasions while the showman cannot ever have an opportunity of making a standard play that will bring a portion of the people into the belief that he is capable and honest.

Many of the politicians who have recently attained to eminence in politics have done so by the use of very methods. While in office the chief work they do is advertising themselves, horn-blowing so to speak.

The voters of Lowell and other cities will never get capable or honest men for public office until they turn down the political horn-blowers, whose main object is to attract notice and hold on to it by the neck and heels, and necessary means to receive the people and throw dust in the eyes of the public.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

Mrs. A. J. George of Massachusetts is to go to England as a representative of the anti-suffragists of this country among the anti-suffragists of Great Britain. It is said that she has accepted an invitation to deliver an address giving an account of the suffrage movement in this country on condition that for one state she be allowed to reply.

Miss Agnes Snively, superintendent of the general hospital at Toronto, has been selected to place a wreath on the tomb of Queen Victoria during the meeting of the international council of nurses which is to be held in London about the middle of this month. The wreath is to be a tribute to the work and character of the late queen from the Canadian National Association of Nurses.

Having disposed of many of his paintings and art objects, King Leopold of Belgium is said now to be placing the furniture of his palace on the market, and naturally there is keen discussion as to his intentions. The rumour theory is that he intends to abdicate and go to Paris to live. His critics at home have the sale of the palace furniture with disapproval, contending that it is semi-public property, which is no more in his personal possession than the crown itself.

Judge Street of a Bucks county (Pa.) court, in charging the jury at a trial a few weeks ago, said: "While many apparently regard the sale of the public lands of this state every game played for a stake is gambling, whether it is progressive euchre, bridge whist, dominoes, checkers or dice, and is a violation of law, and the participants are liable to be indicted and compelled to pay the fine." Thereupon one of the lawyers drew from his pocket a newspaper containing an account of a whist party at which the judge's wife had won a prize. The judge laughed with the rest but it is reported he was embarrassed.

The Alice Freeman Palmer fellowship of $1000 at Wellesley college has been won for the next academic year by Miss Gertrude Schoepferle, a Radcliffe college graduate student.

Miss Mabel K. Babcock of Wellesley Hills, Mass., was the only woman to receive the J. S. degree at the commencement of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She is a graduate of Wellesley college and took a degree in architecture at the Institute of Technology last year. Four other women received degrees from the department of architecture of the institute this year.

Mrs. Henry Southwick of Brookline, formerly Jessie Eldridge, the reader, is a patient in the Providence hospital in Washington, D. C., as the result of an accident which happened when she was on her way south to join Mr. Southwick. It is probable that Mrs. Southwick will not be able for some weeks to return to her home in Brookline.

The Worcester police department has appointed Inspector Arthur W. E. H. of Worcester to take office to the building inspection department of the state police. Mr. Roush was born in Clarence, N. S., June 5, 1869, and received an education in the schools of his native town to fit him for a career in the police force. He was a member of the fire department until March, 1888. He resigned in 1892 to enter the employ of the Washington & Moon company, where he remained until 1894, when he was appointed to the position of chief of police of Worcester.

THEATRE LA SCALA

Today a new program will be offered at the Theatre La Scala and it will undoubtedly please every one who sees it. This theatre cool and comfortable is easily the best equipped, priced theatre in this section. The admission of five cents is so small that almost any kind of a program would do for the management does not look at it that way. Rather it tries to give the patrons just as good a show as is possible and it succeeds. Those who follow the motion pictures closely know that nothing but new, bright and fresh films are shown here. The songs are well sung by the best singers that can be hired and the theatre itself is just what one wants for hot weather for it is cool, clean and comfortable.

STAR THEATRE

A new talking picture and two new illustrated songs were the feature of a short series at the Star theatre. On Wednesday there was a complete change of motion pictures, and another complete change will be made tomorrow.

Talking pictures have taken the place of legitimate shows and many of them are of the kind of story which is so good. The characters in the picture speak and as a whole a connected story is told. With the motion pictures and songs the show is the biggest and best in Lowell for five cents, which includes a seat. The Star theatre is a well equipped and excellent ventilating facilities serve to keep the interior cool and comfortable. Great care is exercised in the drying and cleaning of the theatre.

CANOBIE LAKE THEATRE

The heat of yesterday drove many to Canobie lake and the improved outdoor theatre had many patrons. A Night at the Masquerade, which is the latest production, this week has made a decided hit, and the members of the Canobie Comedy company meet with an appreciative reception.

The comedies are produced under the direction of William Clifton, one of the leading actors in the company. Mr. Clifton is a versatile artist and his specialties are very cleverly executed. The Atlas quartet comes in for hearty applause and never fails to elicit recalls, while the singing of Miss Cornwall, Miss Stafford and Miss Miller is artistic, bright and entertaining. The Brookie and Sherman Wade carry the heavy comedy parts and their work is clever, surrounded as it is with the lighter parts of the younger people in the comedy, making of the whole just the sort of entertainment to pass an hour away resting in comfort the seat under the roof which now covers the auditorium of the theatre. The orchestra is another improvement this year which does much to brighten up the show and giving a good background to the singing part.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Not to be in any way outdone in fashion by the Broadway sister professionals, Agnes Lee of the Flair stock company now playing at Lakeview theatre, will wear in one act of next week's play, the latest fashions in a pantalon gown fashioned after the New York model and which is a combination of the ancient blazer and the full skirt, a semi-bifurcated garment that is said to be striking in the extreme. It was rumored on the square that Agnes was seen wearing this startling garment on Merrimack street, but Business Manager Magnitude of the theatre, denies the statement, and says he will shortly have the dress on exhibition in one of the large show windows of the town, but if one wishes to see the charming Agnes wear the gown, a visit to Lakeview theatre must be made.

BREEZY POINT.

Lady Franklin, 17, and the Baby Bechley, Daughters of Liberty, united in a picnic at Breezy Point, Tuesday, with a large attendance. A boat load of sports was run off in the afternoon, and the picnic lunch was served and after the sports more refreshments were in order.

In the evening dancing was enjoyed and the party arrived home at a late hour. The only mishap of the day was when one of the men lost his Panama hat as he was going, but as that article was recovered, no one has any regret to find.

TO USE BUGS

TO STAMP OUT THE MOTH PEST

It takes but a night hour—according to the Massachusetts Dyer Moth commission, and yesterday the commission's laboratory on Highland avenue, Melrose, fairly swarmed with parasites of various sorts, destined eventually to devour the caterpillars of the dyer moth and the clothes moth.

The brown tail moths, which are the most common pest of the dyer moth, are found in the clothes moth, and the larvae of the brown tail moths are found in the clothes moth. The brown tail moths are found in the clothes moth, and the larvae of the brown tail moths are found in the clothes moth. SKETCH OF THE LUNA BUG.

BEAUTIFUL BUG

FOUND BY MR. CHARLES, GARDENER FOR C. I. HOOD

Mr. George Charles, gardener for C. I. Hood, is so thoroughly versed on the names and properties of plants and flowers that he seldom meets anything in that line that he cannot class with its genus and species. Although he is also a skilled entomologist, he admits that the bugs are so numerous that he cannot distinguish them all. The other day he found a very large and beautiful specimen of a Luna bug on Sherman street, and was rather surprised as to what family it belonged to. It was larger than the largest butterfly, had the beautiful combs in front that characterize certain kinds of the bug family and it had side wings of green edged with red, while the two wings on the back were large and tapering to the end after the style of wings usually assigned to the angels. Being uncertain as to the proper name of this particular bug, Mr. Charles referred it to Supt. Whitte, who at once recognized it as of the Luna species, but said it was one of the most beautiful he had ever seen. It is not one of the bugs that constitute a pest, being comparatively harmless and not very numerous.

Mr. Charles has made a study of entomology as a supplementary to botany, on which he is one of the best authorities in Lowell.

Ladies' Umbrellas Only 89c

For the $1.50 and $2 Kinds

This is a most remarkable offering for it is rare indeed that we are able to induce the manufacturers to break away from their holiday orders at this season of the year and make up such specials. But these are not Special Sale Umbrellas made for looks only. These are dependable Umbrellas in every way. Covers that will not fade, stretch or leak in the wettest downpour. Handles that not only meet the demands of utility but are pretty enough for gifts—and in connection we would state that we could not offer any such values at the holiday season.

One Lot of Trimmed

By TOMMY CLARK.

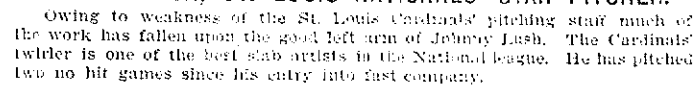

The Brooklyn team is much stronger in every way than either the St. Louis or Boston club. In fact, with one or two gaps filled up, there is little doubt that the Trolley Dodgers would give the leaders a good race for the flag, but on the Boston and St. Louis teams

Johnson has succeeded, and Ban "is the goods." In the older organization things are going from bad to worse. There is no cohesion among the magnates. Murphy of Chicago hates Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh. Dreyfuss can't get along with Brush of New York. Brush would oust Pulliam, and there you are—certainly a grand situation! Between them all the poor old league is flourishing in Chicago and doing well in New York. It is dying of dry rot in Boston, and the fans in both Brooklyn and St. Louis are howling for a good team.

Garry Hermann, president of the Cincinnati club, for Autrey to go to Boston. Autrey may not be any wonder, but Hermann shows the right spirit. It's the only spirit which will make National league baseball succeed in Boston. Without it the game is going to die in Boston, and die soon too. When it has passed away one of the greatest baseball towns in the country will have been lost to the National league for the want of a little foresightfulness, a little brains and a goodly share of common sense on the part of the jealous magnates around the circuit.

Both men are good press agents—so good, in fact, that one of them has cleaned up something like $50,000 and the other has paid his debts with what money he has gathered into himself. The public has been "hooked" again just as P. T. Barnum, the famous show man, said it liked to be, and the eyes to these two fighters to get together, talk matters over in a sane manner, sign articles, post forfeits, select officials for the bout, the place of action and start legitimate training, as fighters did in good old days of the great favorite of the prize ring, John L. Sullivan.

LATEST IN POLICE COURT

Big Crisp of Offenders at Today's Session

This morning's session of the police court was rather colorful, a great deal of time being taken up in arranging on dates for the hearing of cases which have been continued from time to time.

Oscar Boncompagni pleaded guilty to drunkenness and non-support of his minor child. The cases were continued for one week.

Locked His Family Out.

James McCann, last night while under the influence of liquor, locked his family out of the house and refused to allow either his wife or children to enter. Word was sent to the police station and Patrolman Dolphus Grooms was sent to the house to place the man under arrest. He was placed on probation.

One Month in Jail.

Rose Waters, arrested by chasing people up and down Adams street yesterday afternoon, and when Patrolman Kennedy arrived on the scene the woman's condition warranted her being placed under arrest. In court she was charged with drunkenness and sentenced to one month in jail.

Drunken Offenders.

Julia Blanchard, drunkenness, was sentenced to two months in jail. Daniel Derrigan, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. Thomas Cahill was fined $5.

Non-Support of Wife.

Joseph M. Akery pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with failure to support his wife. J. J. O'Connor appeared for the defendant and J. J. Hennessy for the plaintiff. Mrs. Akery testified that since the first of January she has received but $27.75 worth of groceries, half ten of cent and $2 in cash. Four of her children are working and one of them gives her $4 a week and the other three give her $2 each. She said that it would take about $100 a year to clothe herself and youngest child. Mr. Akery testified that he was a laborer and did not have regular work. Of late he has been boarding out and taking his meals at a restaurant. He said he gave his wife $50 in January, $40 in February and since the first of the year gave her several hundred dollars.

He was found guilty and the case was continued one week for sentence.

Continued Cases.

The case of Howard Fremont, charged with non-support, was continued until Sept. 12.

The case of Markley Ayers and Asad Ayers, charged with assault and battery on Abraham Joseph, was continued for one week.

Not Guilty.

William Corey, charged with being a vagrant, was found not guilty and discharged.

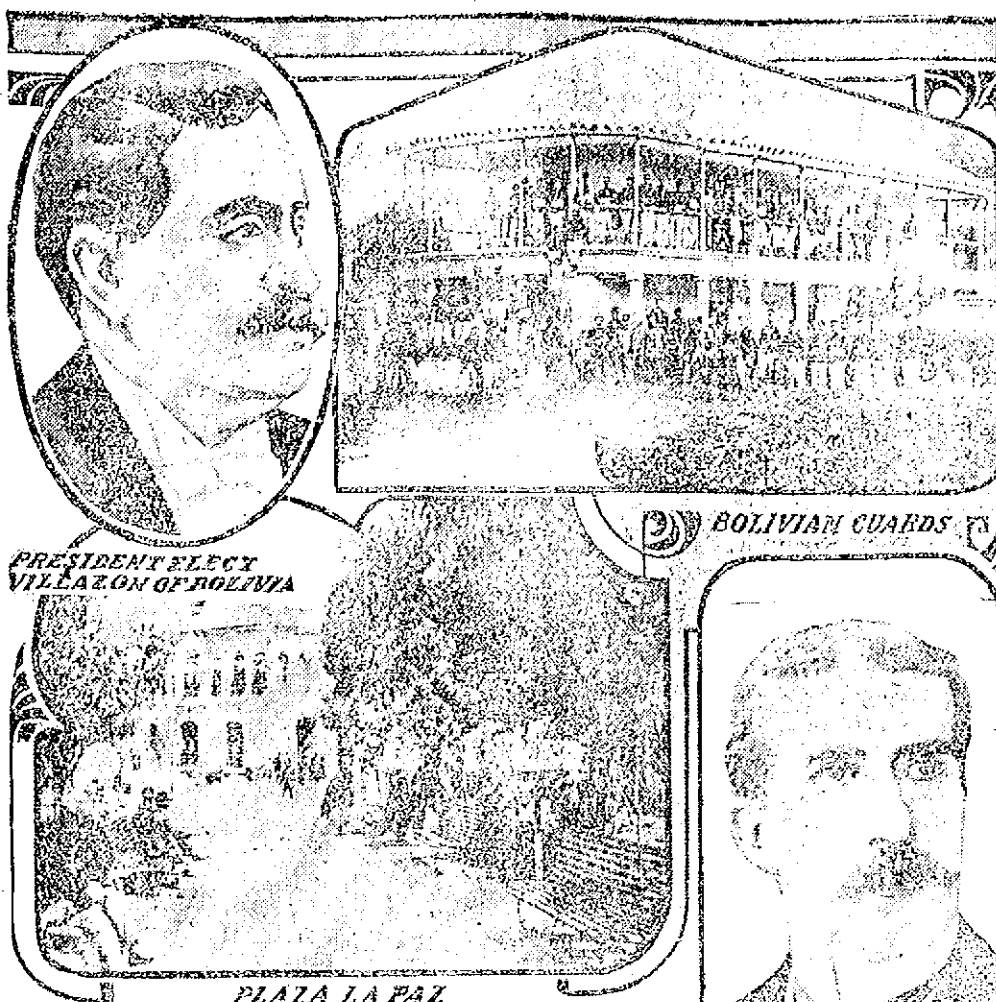

Charge of Abusing a Horse.

Herbert W. MacConnell pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with cruelty to a horse. J. J. Donohue appeared for the government and J. S. Murphy for the defendant.

Agent Charles T. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society, in describing the animal, said that he saw it in Lincoln street July 3. It was thin and its knees were out and bleeding. He thought that the bruises on the knees were caused by the horse falling as a result of its weakened condition. Witnesses also found sores on the horse's legs, which were very sensitive to touch.

On cross-examination he said he told MacConnell that the horse was unfit for use and that if he found him using the animal again he would move to arrest him on the street. A few days later witness made a complaint.

HEADS OF SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS PREPARING FOR WAR: SCENES IN BOLIVIA

NEW YORK, July 15.—War between Bolivia and Peru now seems inevitable, and the government has taken a firm stand and sent letters of protest both to Peru and Argentina. The people have been quieted in the belief that the government will accept what they consider their rights by force of arms. Peru and Bolivia are having supplies in preparation for war. Representatives of several large American firms are on their way to South America to make contracts for rubber and other supplies. The accompanying illustration includes portraits of President Leguia of Peru, President Villazon of Bolivia and scenes in La Paz, Bolivia.

Plan to Draw Electricity Holding Co. Sets Price on It

NEW YORK, July 15.—If the plans of the Rev. Theodore Geisel, of Bayonne, do not go amiss, men may soon be buying electricity by the bottleful. He states that he has planned a tower reaching to the clouds that will attract and extract all their electricity and convey it to receptacles on earth, whence it may be used for commercial purposes. He also declares that by thus reducing the clouds of the electricity all danger of lightning will be removed.

Mr. Geisel is a Baptist minister. He has followed in the footsteps of Ben Franklin, he says, but has learned what Franklin did not—that there is an energy in the clouds potential during thunder storms that can be stored, the very act of storing it taking from nature the necessity of the rumbling thunder and sharp flash of the lightning. Electric storms, he contends, are but nature's attempts to rid herself of a surplusage of energy.

From Nature's Leyden Jars.

To bottle this energy is his purpose. His towers will, he contends, not be circuit makers for the electricity in nature. The upper realms of the air, he asserts, are like Leyden jars, which when overcharged give off an electric spark. He says that when his towers are in operation every city that the world will get its electricity from the clouds.

"It is not an impossible engineering feat," says Mr. Geisel. "To construct such a tower, the civil engineers and scientific men whom I have consulted declare it is entirely feasible. According to my figures, which will be given out later, all that is needed is about three city blocks upon which to erect the foundation of the tower."

"If correct," he continued, "it is very seldom that the inventor is rewarded for his discovery; the man who has the money, but who has the money to take out patents on the ideas of others is the one who reaps the rewards."

Predicts Use in a Few Years.

"However, that may be, when my plans are made public, I predict that within a few years every city will be drawing electricity from the sky. The cities will erect these towers and utilize the electricity in the air to run their street cars, provide their electric lights and motive power for their manufacturing."

"While the first cost of the towers would be large, they would be a pay-off, almost pay for themselves within a year or two."

"If a private citizen erected a tower such as is proposed, in a year or two he could buy out the Rockefeller or the Morgans. I can give no further information at this time, but assure you the plan will be adopted by several big cities in a few years."

MADE NEW RECORD.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Glenn Curtiss bettered his own record again today when he flew his monoplane at Mineola, L. I., in the air for 21 minutes and 4 seconds. The new record was set after two previous attempts. It was the second that beat his performance of yesterday, when he flew for 17 minutes and 45 seconds. He was flying at an altitude of 1,000 feet and was seen by a large number of people. He was flying over a field of corn and was seen by a large number of people. FOUGHT BLAZE.

WOMEN HELPED TO EXTINGUISH FIRE.

NATURALIA, July 15.—Twenty women helped to extinguish a fire in a house in the town of Naturalia, Chile, today. The fire broke out in the early morning and the women, who were in the house, used buckets and other means to put out the fire. The fire was caused by a candle and the house was damaged.

NEW RECORD.

NEW YORK, July 15.—A new record was set today when a team of horses pulled a heavy load in a race. The team consisted of four horses and they were driven by a coachman. They won the race in a record time of 10 minutes and 30 seconds.

PRES. NICHOLS

Now in Charge at Dartmouth

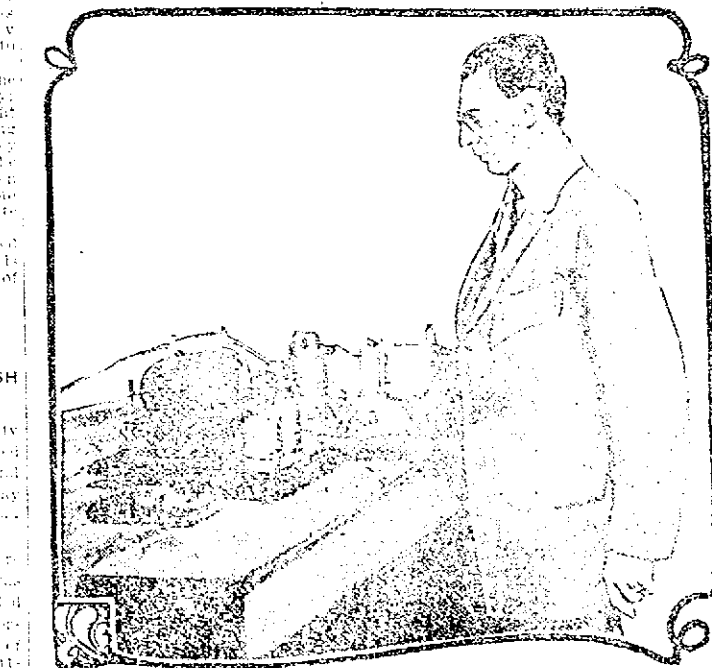

HANOVER, N. H., July 15.—Dartmouth college passed from the guidance of President William C. Coker to Ernest Fox Nichols of Columbia today. No ceremonies marked the day, but a new era was inaugurated. It having been previously arranged to hold the annual installation exercises next October when the student body returns. President Nichols was absent from Hanover and ex-President Coker planned to pass the day quietly at his home in Ossipee, a short distance from the college, over which he had so faithfully presided for the past fifteen years. At that time a tribute was paid to his work and a substantial token of regard was given him when the trustees of that institution named that it had voted to name his name on the grounds of that institution. In the near future it is expected that the trustees will present him with a large Carnegie foundation fund for the ward of an income. President Nichols is familiar with South.

EMPEROR'S CHUM

Is Chancellor of German Empire

BERLIN, July 15.—Primer von Bülow, former imperial chancellor, proposed to Emperor William that he be succeeded by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, secretary of the interior and vice-chancellor. The emperor promptly accepted the suggestion and made the appointment. Dr. von Bülow had been in office for over three years and his tenure was coming to an end. Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg is a prominent politician and has been in the government for many years. He is known for his diplomatic skills and his loyalty to the emperor.

DIVORCE CONDEMNED

CARDINAL GIBBONS OF BALTIMORE.

Cardinal Gibbons Replies to Ex-Judge Brown's Remarks

BALTIMORE, July 15.—Cardinal Gibbons, in an interview yesterday, replied to remarks of Ex-Judge Brown on the subject of divorce before the Maryland bar association at 615 Point Comfort last week. The cardinal said: "In a recent convention of lawyers at Old Point Comfort, Justice Brown, while referring to English law and country where Christianity dominates, and especially accepted in every age and country where Christianity dominates, has been considered obsolete and impracticable in the United States. The multiplication of divorces is largely ascribed by some writers to our divorce laws, but to the neglect of God's office at marriage services. I have no word of apology or excuse for the scandalous conduct of some clergymen in this respect. But are not these persons condemning men for effect? Divorces are multiplied, not because ministers willingly assist at ill-assorted marriages, but because loose legislation on matrimony renders it easy for married parties to annul the marriage bond. If the civil laws of all our states were as strict as they are in South Carolina and in Canada the persons contemplating it would seriously and prayerfully reflect; they would study each other's disposition and temperament before entering into a contract which would bind them for life. And certainly as they are in South Carolina and in Canada the persons contemplating it would seriously and prayerfully reflect; they would study each other's disposition and temperament before entering into a contract which would bind them for life. And certainly as they are in South Carolina and in Canada the persons contemplating it would seriously and prayerfully reflect; they would study each other's disposition and temperament before entering into a contract which would bind them for life."

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was

15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

What will the Smithsonian Institute gain by preserving the hides of animals that can be seen in the menagerie of any circus?

It is announced that a counterfeit $20 bill is in circulation. The great bulk of the rollers have nothing to fear as they seldom see a $20 genuine or counterfeit bill.

The movement in some Massachusetts cities to compel men in the employ of the city to pay their poll tax is right and proper. They should be forced to pay.

When will our street car conductors find it unnecessary to shout "Go out by the forward door." The intelligent public should realize that time is saved by passing from a street car by the forward door. It prevents a jam in the rear door and is better for everybody.

WET DOWN CONGESTED DISTRICTS.

The fire department should be required to wet down the congested districts during the hot spell. Some of the poor people suffer terribly during the day, and the wetting of their houses and the streets in front would be a welcome relief. It would also make their abode more tolerable for the night.

ANOTHER LIFE LOST.

There has been another drowning in one of the canals. During the course of the summer the number is sure to run up to from six to ten. That is the number of lives lost in Lowell annually, because the people have no safe place in which to go bathing. It is one more reminder of the need of a system of public baths.

THAW WILL SOON BE FREE.

Harry K. Thaw, who escaped electrocution for the murder of Stanford White because certain alienists pronounced him insane, is likely soon to be set free. Everybody knew he wasn't insane when he committed the crime, and now the alienists will again deliver him, this time from the confinement prescribed for "an insane murderer." It is really strange how these alienists can change their minds, especially for a client who has plenty of money.

THE EVOLUTION OF POLITICAL HORN-BLOWERS.

Is the Luce law responsible for the evolution of the political horn-blower or is this noisy political genus responsible for discrediting that law? This is one of the uppermost questions of the hour.

Representative Garcelon of Newton is opposed to direct nominations. He thinks that the man with the loudest voice, the man who most severely denounces existing conditions and makes the most radical promises of reform can capture the nomination even though he be the most irresponsible and most unreliable individual in the community. He is right.

The present method affords too many facilities for gulling the people, for imposing upon the credulous and deceiving the voters. The reason is, that while the dishonest candidate will go around among the people making speeches in public places, protesting always his eminent honesty even when he is known to be a cunning and deceitful rascal, the honest and desirable candidate will not stoop to the street corner canvass; he will not make false charges against any particular interest, or any particular department in order to secure election under false pretences. Neither will he adopt the house to house method of canvassing votes, and if he adopts none of these methods then he will have no chance of election as the voters stand upon their dignity in accordance with the established custom and state that they will vote for the man who thought enough of their votes to come and ask for them.

Under the present method the people have the power to make their candidates, but they are not using it in such a way as to secure the best results. The people must soon discover how unscrupulously they have been humbugged, not only here but elsewhere in some of the men they have elevated to honorable positions. It may take a year or two to bring them to their senses, but the day will come when they will realize how egregiously they have been mistaken.

The old convention method of nominating was open to its objections, in being controlled mainly by politicians but these conventions nominated better candidates than does the new method. The reason is that the conventions were made up of delegates who knew the candidates, whereas not one-tenth of the voters knew the real character or the ability of the candidates they vote for.

In order to make the direct method of nomination a success the people will have to guard against demagogues; they will have to turn over the candidate who raises up loud noises to scare the voters into the belief that things are in a fearful condition and call for just such a man as he to set them right.

The modern political demagogue is more a showman than a politician. He has his press agent who bores him on all possible occasions, while the showman himself never loses an opportunity of making a grand stand play that leads a portion of the people into the belief that he is capable and honest.

Many of the public men who have recently attained prominence in public office have done so by these very methods. While in office the chief work they do is advertising themselves—horn-blowing so to speak.

The voters of Lowell and other cities will never get capable or honest men for public office until they turn down the political horn-blowers, whose main object is to attract public office and hold on to it by hook or crook, or necessary raising false issues to deceive the people and throw dust in the eyes of the public.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

Mrs. A. J. George of Massachusetts is to go to England as a representative of the anti-suffragists of this country among the anti-suffragists of Great Britain. It is said that she has accepted an invitation to deliver an address giving an account of the suffrage movement in this country on condition that no one shall be allowed to reply.

Miss Agnes Strivens, superintendent of the general hospital at Toronto, has been selected to place a wreath on the tomb of Queen Victoria during the meeting of the International Council of Nurses which is to be held in London about the middle of this month. The wreath is to be a tribute to the work and character of the late queen from the Canadian National Association of Nurses.

Having disposed of many of his paintings and art objects, King Leopold of Belgium is said now to be placing the furniture of his palace on the market, and naturally there is keen discussion as to his intentions. The favorite theory is that he intends to abdicate and go to Paris to live. His criticism of the sale of the palace furniture with disapproval, contending that it is semi-public property, which is no more in his personal possession than the crown itself.

Judge Street of a Bucks county (Pa.) court, in charging the jury at a trial a few weeks ago, said: "While many apparently overlook the fact, under the laws of this state every game played on a stake is gambling, whether it is progressive euchre, bridge whist, dominoes, checkers or dice, and is a violation of law, and the participants are liable to be indicted and compelled to face the jury." The judge then directed the jury to find the defendant guilty of a crime at which the judge's wife had won a prize. The judge laughed with the rest, but it is reported he was embarrassed.

The Alice Freeman Palmer fellowship of 1909 at Wellesley college has been won for the next academic year by Miss Gertrude Schoepfle, a Radcliffe college graduate student.

Miss Mabel K. Babcock of Wellesley Hills, Mass., was the only woman to receive the M. S. degree at the recent commencement of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She is a graduate of Wellesley college and took a degree in architecture at the Institute of Technology last year. Four other women received degrees from the department of architecture of the institute this year.

Mrs. Henry Southwick of Brookline, formerly Jessie Eldridge, the reader, is a patient in the Providence hospital in Washington, D. It is probable that Mrs. Southwick will not be able to come weeks to return to her home in Brookline.

Gov. Draper has appointed Inspector Arthur P. Roach of the Worcester police force to the building inspection department of the state police. Mr. Roach was born in Claremont, N. S. June 5, 1860, and received an education in the schools of his native town to fit him for teaching. He taught in Hampton, Victoria, Port George, Salem, Margareville and Kingston, Staten N. S. He came to Worcester in September, 1885. He was a member of the fire department until March, 1888. He resigned in 1892 to enter the employ of the Washburn & Moen company, where he remained until 1894, when he was appointed to the police force. Last spring he was offered the position of chief of police of Fitchburg, but declined.

THEATRE LA SCALA

Today a new program will be offered at the Theatre La Scala and it will undoubtedly please every one who sees it. This theatre pool and comfortable seats, is easily the best popular theatre in this section. The admission of five cents is so small that almost any kind of a program would do but the management does not look at it that way. Rather it tries to give its patrons just as good a show as it can. And it succeeds. Those who follow the program pictures, mostly know just nothing but new, bright and fresh things are shown here. The songs are well sung by the best singers that can be hired and the theatre itself is just what one wants this hot weather for it is cool, clean and comfortable.

STAR THEATRE

A new talking picture and two new illustrated songs were the features of today's offering at the Star Theatre. On Wednesday there was a complete change of motion pictures, and another complete change will be made tomorrow.

Talking pictures have taken the place of repertoire shows and many of them are the equal of any play ever staged. The characters in the picture speak and as a whole a complete story is told. With the motion pictures and songs "the show is the biggest and best in Lowell for five cents," which includes a seat.

Electric fans and excellent ventilation facilities serve to keep the interior cool and comfortable. Great care is exercised in the airing and cleaning of the theatre.

CANOBIE LAKE THEATRE

The heat of yesterday drove many to Canobie lake and the improved outdoor theatre had many patrons. "A Night at the Masquerade," which is the attraction this week, has made a decided hit, and the members of the Canobie Comedy company meet with an appreciative reception.

The comedies are produced under the direction of William Clifton, one of the leading characters in the company. Mr. Clifton is a versatile artist and his specialties are very cleverly executed. The Atlas quartet comes in for hearty applause and never fails to elicit recalls, while the singing of Miss Cornwall, Miss Stafford and Miss Miller is artistic, bright and entertaining. Ten Brooke and Sherman Wade carry the heavy comedy parts and their work is clever, surrounded as it is with the lighter parts of the younger people in the comedy, making of the whole just the sort of entertainment to pass an hour away resting in comfortable seats under the new covers the auditorium of the theatre. The orchestra is another improvement this year which does much to brighten up the show and giving a good background to the singing parts.

Messrs. J. Fred Lees and John F. Adams, the managers of the theatre, are catering to the comfort of the public as well as to their entertainment and his audience will be the rule from now on throughout the hot weather.

The shows are held twice daily, at 2:15 and 8 p.m. Don't miss the show this week Sunday evening moving pictures and musical features.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Not to be in any way outdone in fashion by the Broadway sister professional, the members of the Flynn Adams company now playing at Lakeview theatre, will wear in one act of next week's play, the latest freak in style, a pantalon gown fashioned after the New York model and which is a combination of the ancient looper and the full skirt, a semi-draped garment that is said to be striking in the extreme. It was rumored on the square that Agnes was seen wearing this startling garment on Merrimack street, but Business Manager Maguire of the theatre, denies the statement, but says he will shortly have the dress on exhibition in one of the large show windows of the town, but on wishing to see the charming Agnes wear the gown, a visit to Lakeview theatre must be made.

BREEZY POINT.

Lady Franklin, 17, and the Baby Bebe, 18, daughters of Liberty, united in a picnic at Breezy Point, Tuesday, with a large attendance. A long list of sports was run off in the afternoon, after a basket luncheon had been served, and after the sports more refreshments were in order.

In the evening dinner was enjoyed and the party arrived home at a late hour. The only mishap of the day was when one of the men lost his Panama hat in the water, but as that article was recovered, no one has any fault to find.

TO USE BUGS

TO STAMP OUT THE MOTH PEST

It takes bugs to fight bugs—according to the Massachusetts Gypsy Moth commission, and yesterday the commission's laboratory on Highland avenue, Melrose, fairly swarmed with parasites of various sorts, destined eventually to devour the caterpillars of the gypsy and brown tail moths.

Californian beetles from France and Germany, Maryland flies from Spain and a variety of parasites from Japan are among the kinds in training at Melrose.

There is a Japanese fly which deposits its eggs along the backs of the caterpillars. These eggs hatch after the caterpillar has entered the cocoon and the larvae grow into the body and kill the caterpillar. The hope is that this fly will be a similar fashion.

The brown tail moths arrived in countless swarms two days ago from New Hampshire, so that last night electric light poles in the vicinity of Melrose and Melrose were darkened. The moths were, however, so bad as to be killed by the moth commission. They were coming and were reported. The area invaded by the pests is considerably more restricted than formerly.

SKETCH OF THE LUNA BUG.

BEAUTIFUL BUG

FOUND BY MR. CHARLES, GARDENER FOR C. I. HOOD

Mr. George Charles, gardener for C. I. Hood, is so thoroughly versed on the names and properties of plants and flowers that he seldom meets anything in that line that he cannot class with its genus and species. Although he is also a skilled entomologist, he admits that the bugs are so numerous that he cannot distinguish them all. The only bug he found a very large and beautiful specimen of four winged bug on Sherman street, and was rather uncertain as to what family it belonged to. It was larger than the largest butterfly, had the beautiful combs in front that characterize certain kinds of the bug family and it had side wings of green edged with red, while the two wings on the back were large and tapering to the end after the style of wings usually assigned to the angels. Being uncertain as to the proper name of this particular bug, Mr. Charles referred it to Supt. Whitte, who at once recognized it as of the Luna species, but said it was one of the most beautiful he had ever seen. It is not one of the bugs that constitute a pest, being comparatively harmless and not very numerous.

Mr. Charles has made a study of

In Order to Sue an Enemy, He Says

MONTREAL, July 15.—Claiming that he has been the victim of a conspiracy that has robbed him of everything he possessed, and taken even his liberty, Maurice E. Zeskind, a Russian, who escaped from the Worcester Insane hospital a month ago, has sought refuge in Montreal and will attempt to defend himself, with the help of local officials.

He has stated his case to the Russian and American consuls and has had a conference with the firm of Mullin & Mathieu, lawyers, with an idea of taking civil action against the alleged oppressors in Worcester.

From the story Zeskind tells, it is apparent that he had many troubles.

using a broken piece of china. It took a long time to make the key, and Zeskind's fingers were blistered until he feared the guards would discover his secret. He kept the spoon and broken dish in his mattress and worked one hour every night. But even after he got out, his troubles were not over, and for three weeks he had experiences that sound like difficulties in fiction.

The man said that he was originally arrested in Worcester for demanding aid of the authorities after he had extended his last resource. His wife and three children did not at first approve, but later gave sanction to the action of the police in sending Zeskind to the insane asylum. To all appearances he is sane for his conversation is not that of a maniac, although the hardships he has passed through have made him excitable and nervous.

His home in Worcester, he said, is 72 Madison street. During his long walk through Massachusetts and New Hampshire, Zeskind was held up two or three times by the police, and his boots compared with the description sent out from the insane hospital people. His intelligent were his answers to all questions that he was each time allowed to continue.

ROBBED BRIDE

Her Trunks Looted of Their Treasure

SPRINGFIELD, July 15.—Christian C. Johnson, alias Madison, the burglar who was lodged in prison at San Quentin, Cal., yesterday, had a most romantic marriage with Mrs. Mary A. Brown of this city. The story of the marriage came out yesterday.

In 1904 Johnson advertised for a wife and Mrs. Brown answered. After several letters Johnson came here, and on December 5, 1904, the marriage ceremony was performed. When the license was taken out, Johnson gave his age as 31 and Mrs. Brown as 18. Mrs. Brown ran a dressmaking establishment here, which she sold for $500. They went to New York, and there Johnson deserted her, after getting the $500, telling her he had been disappointed in the receipt of a check. After securing the money, Johnson left the hotel, sending a note to the hotel chamber by the bellboy, asking his bride to meet him in Buffalo. She went to Buffalo, but could not find no trace of her husband. Meanwhile her trunks had disappeared. They were later found in a western city, but had been filled of all their valuables.

Mrs. Brown returned to this city and attempted to re-engage in the dressmaking business. Her health failed her, however, and she was forced to go to her daughter's home in New York. Mrs. Brown secured a divorce from Johnson in 1906 in this city, on the ground of desertion, and died soon after.

KINDLING WOOD

IN THE THOMPSON BOX FACTORY CAUGHT FIRE

An alarm from box 215 shortly after 11 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a fire in some kindling wood in the boiler room of the James A. Thompson box factory at the end of Meadowcroft street. Despite the fact that the blaze was a small one the firemen remained about the place for almost an hour after the fire was extinguished in order to be on hand in case it should happen to break out again.

SAILORS EXCLUDED

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—Mayor John Miller has written a letter to Commander Field on the gunboat Yorktown, expressing his regrets that he has been excluded from a dance, but saying that there is no ordinance making such exclusion a violation of law. The proprietor of the hall said bluntly that he did not want uniformed sailors on his floor. Commander Field took the side of the men and wrote a letter of complaint to the mayor.

STATE CONSTABULARY ARRIVES

PITTSBURG, July 15.—The state constabulary reached McKees rocks at an early hour this morning in response to a request made by Sheriff Gambert. THE ARCHBISHOP

Paid a Great Tribute to Nuns Before Catholic Educators

BOSTON, July 15.—Matters of deep interest to all who are engaged in the work of education, whether secular or religious, were discussed at the sessions of the Catholic Educational Association and its various departments and sections in the Boston college building yesterday. There was a good attendance at all of the meetings, but, as on the opening day, the parish school conference in college hall drew the great majority of the delegates.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the day, at least from a layman's standpoint, was the meeting in the afternoon, under the auspices of the parish school department, of all the teachers of the elementary schools attending the convention, and the unexpected appearance of Archbishop O'Connell, who paid a high tribute to the labors of the various orders for the self-sacrificing work to which they have devoted their lives.

"One has not a vocabulary," said the archbishop, "to express the sentiments one feels in the presence of the self-sacrifice and devotion of these noble women. Each one of those veiled habits tells a story, but the unified story of all is devotion to this great goal of Catholic education. We see the patient faces, the weary bodies, but there is a spirit of faith in the eye which says, 'I will work until I die in this glorious calling in which I have been placed to help the church.'"

Disinterested Service

"We ask the world to come here and look at this spectacle. There are no such spectacles outside of the Catholic church. There are other glorious things, I do not wish to forget. There are millions of men and women outside of the Catholic church doing wonderful things, and wonderful things for God, too, since every good thing is for Him. But when I look at this united body of women, ever patient, never self-seeking, content with everything, plodding along under the most difficult circumstances, with the most difficult of work, living in peace almost until for habitation, sometimes eating food that is scarcely the maintenance one would pick out for hard working women. I tell you I haven't the words to express my admiration, yes, far more than that, my veneration, for these noble women of God."

The archbishop said he had come from many ladies, some of which he had not time to say this word of thanks to the sisters and to attest by his presence and his words the great gratification he gave them to have the present congress of the association "a growing and a cultivated success." For this success, he said, the priests and laymen who had done such great work were mainly entitled to the credit.

"Everywhere," he said, "I see manifestations of the unity and harmony and co-operation which alone can make a convention of this kind successful. No one can do it. It takes the arms and strength and good will of all. When I came into the hall a few minutes ago, I was proud to have a gentleman say to me: 'This is the greatest, most numerous and promising congress the Catholic Educational Association has had up to the present time.' That is what we wanted, and we are proud that it is so."

The archbishop entered the hall in time to see and join in the applause evoked by classes of children from 10 different schools in the vicinity of Boston, announced by the Sisters of Notre Dame, who illustrated a copy of "Vocal Music and its place in the School Curriculum," written by one of the sisters of that order and read by Fr. J. J. McCarthy.

The children were divided into groups of about 100 each, representing the fourth, sixth, eighth and high school grades. In each of the first three groups the children sang one piece of music, then sang at sight a piece of music which they had never heard, but which they sang before, and closed with exercises in tone intervals absolutely extemporaneous. The girls of the high school grade sang a three-part song which they sang upon the platform for the first time. The skill grew forth great applause from the audience, and the archbishop, who is a trained musician and a composer, said he was amazed at the accuracy with which they followed the music without any preparation.

Has Been Bought by Mrs. Borda

NARRAGANSETT PIKE, R. I., July 15.—Canochet, the historic Narragansett estate of William Sprague, Rhode Island's war governor, has been purchased by Mrs. Avis Wheaton Borda, wife of Worcester Borda, United States consul at San Juan, P. R. Mrs. Borda is a sister of Gov. Sprague's wife. The property which has been in the Sprague family since 1840 consists of 350 acres of land and a picturesque dwelling containing more than 40 rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Borda will spend at least six months of every year on the estate while Gov. and Mrs. Sprague will make their permanent home there.

Canochet was the last property left to Gov. Sprague after the disastrous failure of the Sprague's manufacturing enterprise, and it was at this place that the governor refused at a point of a shotgun to surrender the property to a man who had purchased it from the trustee of the Sprague assets.

At Canochet Gov. Sprague's first wife, who was the daughter of John P. Chase, treasurer secretary of the treasury and subsequently chief justice of the United States, spent more than $400,000 in improving the property where she entertained lavishly. Here also occurred those events in which the name of Senator Roscoe Conkling was so frequently mentioned and the situation resulted which ended in the divorce of the Spragues.

R. R. MAGNATE HILL

Says Country is Certain to Enjoy Great Activity

WASHINGTON, July 15.—"As soon as the tariff is out of the way," said J. J. Hill, the railroad magnate, who yesterday was one of President Taft's callers, "this country will enjoy a prosperity which will at least equal if it does not surpass that which it knew under the McKinley administration."

Last month I traveled extensively through the west and I never saw such activity among the farmers. Everywhere I went I saw happy and contented people, and I saw that the crops were abundant and that the farmers were satisfied. Since the financial depression of 1907, I have not seen such a state of affairs.

"Freight cars will be at a premium within a few weeks. We of the railroad world judge the prosperity of the nation as by the number of idle cars as anything else. Throughout the past year there have been thousands idle, but they will soon be rolling about the country filled with freight."

Bell Grove, The Knox, Friday night.

THE AUTO CLUB

Is Making Arrangements for Liability Insurance

At the meeting of the board of governors of the Lowell Automobile club held late yesterday afternoon the question of liability insurance was taken up. President Heinze, who returned from the west during the day, was present and informed the governors of the success which he had during his trip and spoke of the great enthusiasm throughout the country over the coming carnival.

Mr. Heinze said that the first expenditure of money to be made must be for liability insurance. Thomas C. Lee, one of the members of the governing board offered propositions, and finally got in touch with the Maryland Casualty company of Boston. As a result of the telephonic conversation the officers of the casualty company will be in Lowell today and the matter will be discussed.

The Lowell Automobile club is an incorporated body. It could not be affiliated with the Automobile Association of America unless articles of incorporation had been taken out. To protect itself the local club must carry a heavy liability insurance for the five days of the carnival. Anything in the nature of an accident, minor or major, must be paid for by the company assuming the liability. Notwithstanding the fact that many races have been run with no upward incidents in connection with them, the Three A's will not give its sanction to a contest unless the club is properly insured. Mr. Heinze was opposed to the expenditure of a cent until the insurance had been clapped on.

TRUNK THIEVES

Are Making Hauls in Boston

BOSTON, July 15.—It became known yesterday that bogus expressmen have been operating in this city with more or less success for the past few months. It was also discovered that a young Wellesley student, narrowly escaped losing two trunks, which, with the contents, were valued at about $600.

Strange men have been frequenting the railroad terminals in this city, pretending to be expressmen, have succeeded in securing trunks, bags and goods of considerable value.

The case that brought the matter to the attention of the police was that of the Wellesley girl. Some six weeks ago she finished her studies and, with her father and brother, was returning to her home in the west.

The party checked the two trunks from Wellesley to Boston, with directions to have them transferred from the south to the north station. When they passed through the gates into the south station they were accosted by a man who represented himself to be an expressman, and who said his wagon was outside the station. The father of the girl handed the supposed expressman the checks for the trunks, and requested that they be delivered at the north station without delay and checked on the western

Was Sunk in Collision Last Night

LONDON, July 15.—The British submarine torpedo boat C 11 was sunk in collision late last night with its crew of 16 men locked inside according to a wireless message received at Portsmouth.

Another submarine boat, C 17, was damaged in the collision but the crew was saved.

No complete report of the accident yet has been received but the latest advices from Sheerness whence assistance was sent indicate that some members of the crew of C 11 have been saved.

MISS STEWART

SAYS SUTTON WAS NOT KILLED IN QUARREL OVER HER

NEW YORK, July 15.—From an isolated source report, Stanley Drac, Mucklow Lake, Ont., there came to New York in special despatches last night an interview with Miss Mary E. Stewart of Pittsburgh, the 21 year old girl, who was with Lieut. James N. Sutton not long before he met his death.

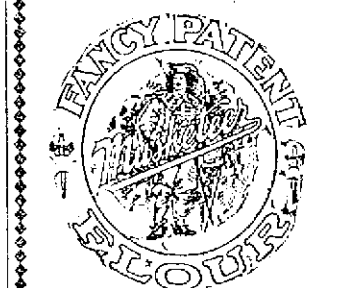

Important declaration was that she was killed in a quarrel over her. She was equally emphatic in denying any knowledge of the circumstances which preceded his death.

MARK TWAIN HELD BURGLAR

In Litigation With His Secretary

NEW YORK, July 15.—Mrs. Ralph W. Ashcroft, nee Lyon, former secretary of Samuel L. Clemens—Mark Twain—returned to this country yesterday on the Commodore Carmania in haste to see her former employer regarding his writ of attachment against her residence in Redding, Conn. It was this morning that the humorist gave Mrs. Ashcroft as a wedding present, and his writ of attachment was said to be due to discoveries of irregularities in her accounts. Coincident with the landing of Mrs. Ashcroft came the report from Redding of the withdrawal of the writ of attachment by Twain, and a curious and interesting story of the influence which moved him. This influence, in brief, was said to be a New Yorker, who years ago had been instrumental in having Ashcroft's father, an English emigrant, come to this city. After the Rev. Mr. Ashcroft's arrival his New York patron is said to have built a church for him.

Intervention Saves Home. For this reason it is now said, the friendly intervention of the New Yorker man is made in behalf of the son of his old friend and the latter's bride in order that her home may be saved. Mr. Clemens and the New Yorker are said to have had several conferences over the question of the attachment, and the former agreed to withdraw the writ.

Mrs. Ashcroft had nothing to say of this reported quarrel yesterday, nor did she give a hint of the alleged wealthy friend of her husband who had intervened. But it was evident through her interview that she had the sense of the suit at Miss Clemens' door. "It was two weeks ago that I received a letter in London telling me of the attachment for $500 held against the property Mr. Clemens gave me," said Mrs. Ashcroft. "It was so astounding that I hardly could believe it. Of course I started for New York at once. I cannot even now understand why Mr. Clemens took this action, though I believe I can straighten out any misunderstanding that has occurred."

"The only solution of it I can find in my mind is that Miss Clemens did not fully understand the conditions that existed, and so took a hasty step. She is of an nervous temperament and might act on impulse and afterward regret it. You may rest assured that I shall take every possible step to clear myself of the charges that have been made against me."

Loved Him Like a Daughter

"My relations with Mr. Clemens were almost those of a daughter toward her father. I knew that I loved him as I would my father. For seven years I relieved him of every care I could. He lent us the money to make repairs and furnish the house, and made a written agreement to take my husband's notes for this obligation. He now holds notes to the amount of almost $1000 from Mr. Ashcroft."

"Every step that was taken at the Redding firm was with the knowledge and approval of Mr. Clemens. His daughter, if she knew of an entire transaction, as I understood it, I shall rest a day in New York and then go to see Mr. Clemens at his country home."

Lost a Close Game for Lowell Yesterday

Tyler Pitched Beautiful Game, But Let in Run on Error—Danzig Back in the Game

The Lowell team, followed by a large party of rooters and a special carload from Barry, N. H., went to Glen Forest yesterday afternoon and saw the Gray boys defeated 2 to 1 in a game that should have been 1 to 0 in their favor.

It was a shame, but it happened nevertheless. Old Reliable Howard, dropped a fly that let in the first run, and Tyler, the pitcher, made an error that scored the second.

Lowell's new pitcher from Barry, pitched his first game, and a bunch of royal rooters from this home town gave him encouragement. Barring his costly error, his work was all edged for he gave only two bases on balls, allowed but three hits and struck out seven men. Manager Eason pitched for Lawrence and allowed only four hits. He worked so slowly, however, as to exasperate the Lowell fans.

There was plenty of fast fielding in the game, four double plays being recorded. In the first inning, with two out and Murphy on second, Howard muffed a beautiful fly to center, and the error gave Lawrence his first run. In the eighth, with Murphy on second and Tyler on first, O'Brien hit a grounder to Tyler, who threw wild in an effort to shut off Murphy on the way to third. This scored Lawrence's second run.

Lowell scored its only run in the fifth. Danzig walked on four consecutive pitches. O'Brien bunted to Belis, the Lawrence third baseman, and Danzig ran from first to third, no one going over to that station to cover. Huston, with two strikes called, hit a fly to right, and Danzig scored. Tyler fled out. The score:

Lowell scored its only run in the fifth. Danzig walked on four consecutive pitches. O'Brien bunted to Belis, the Lawrence third baseman, and Danzig ran from first to third, no one going over to that station to cover. Huston, with two strikes called, hit a fly to right, and Danzig scored. Tyler fled out. The score:

POLICE BOARD CASE TWO COSTLY ERRORS WILLIAM KNIGHT

Preliminary Hearing Will be Held on July 22

Lost a Close Game for Lowell Yesterday

Tyler Pitched Beautiful Game, But Let in Run on Error—Danzig Back in the Game

The Lowell team, followed by a large party of rooters and a special carload from Barry, N. H., went to Glen Forest yesterday afternoon and saw the Gray boys defeated 2 to 1 in a game that should have been 1 to 0 in their favor.

It was a shame, but it happened nevertheless. Old Reliable Howard, dropped a fly that let in the first run, and Tyler, the pitcher, made an error that scored the second.

Lowell's new pitcher from Barry, pitched his first game, and a bunch of royal rooters from this home town gave him encouragement. Barring his costly error, his work was all edged for he gave only two bases on balls, allowed but three hits and struck out seven men. Manager Eason pitched for Lawrence and allowed only four hits. He worked so slowly, however, as to exasperate the Lowell fans.

There was plenty of fast fielding in the game, four double plays being recorded. In the first inning, with two out and Murphy on second, Howard muffed a beautiful fly to center, and the error gave Lawrence his first run. In the eighth, with Murphy on second and Tyler on first, O'Brien hit a grounder to Tyler, who threw wild in an effort to shut off Murphy on the way to third. This scored Lawrence's second run.

Lowell scored its only run in the fifth. Danzig walked on four consecutive pitches. O'Brien bunted to Belis, the Lawrence third baseman, and Danzig ran from first to third, no one going over to that station to cover. Huston, with two strikes called, hit a fly to right, and Danzig scored. Tyler fled out. The score:

NANTASKET, July 15.—For awhile yesterday afternoon it looked as if the police at the state park might have to take a swim to enforce observance of certain rules of the park system. Many bathers about them, but a crowd from the hotel piazzas, the suffragette approached the shore, where Mrs. Fitzgerald, with a standard bearer beside her, stood in the surf and addressed

About 3 o'clock a large orange colored pennant, bearing the inscription in black letters, "Bathing Here," was suspended in the air by six huge kites floating over the sands of the park, attracted the curiosity of a large number of bathers.

At a number of the suffragettes appeared on the beach carrying non-swimmers, which were miniature replicas of the one floating overhead.

They were Mrs. Richard Fitzgerald, Misses Katherine Tans, Margaret L. Foley, Mabel Gray and Gertrude V. Clark.

Speechmaking is not allowed in metropolitan parks, and this possibly promoted the idea of making the addresses from the water. At any rate, several women secured bathing suits at the state bathhouse and went into the water.

After a swim, with the flags held above their heads, which drew not only the crowd for nearly an hour.

After the address, Mrs. Fitzgerald and the suffragettes, who were nothing but national chauvinists, returned to the state, secured many signatures for the cause. The suffragettes were not molested by the police. Whether they avoided a swim, believing the women would keep beyond the park sea boundary, is not known. All the women were good swimmers.

The park officers would have stopped the speechmaking, doubtless, had they ventured further up the beach.

Chief of Police Moody Legation surprised the women at the beach house, apparently in a quandary with what to do. The park was bounded by low water mark, he said, but the tide was above it at the time the women were in the water.

The tide ran dry down on the 225 boardwalk from Boston addresses were made to the passersby by the suffragettes.

Boy Did Not Know Gun Was Loaded

REVERE, July 15.—Pulling a 32 calibre revolver from his pocket with the exclamation "Watch me shoot the kid," if year old Fred Hegner fired point blank at little 13 months old Annie Pasquale as she lay in her baby carriage at the corner of Ambrose street and Broadway last night. The bullet lodged in the brain of the tot. The girl was immediately arrested and charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. The infant was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital at Boston and but little hope of recovery is offered.

Young Hegner is the son of Joseph Hegner, a 13 year barber, who lives at 37 Fish street, Revere, and his infant is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Pasquale of 722 Broadway.

The boy was showing off, it is claimed, before some companions and says he did not know the revolver was loaded, the cartridges which exploded being the only one in the revolver.

MAY EXTEND TIME OF WRIGHT BROTHERS

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Wright brothers, on account of the various unfortunate incidents that have happened since their arrival at Fort Myer, may find it necessary to obtain a further extension of time in which to complete their official aeroplane speed and endurance trials. As Orville Wright has only a few more working days left to complete all his work, he has generally admitted that he will be granted a further extension by the war department.

The Wright aeroplane, after having been repaired, was damaged again last Tuesday while being moved in its shed.

The Wrights said they would have everything in shape for flight today.

Charged up Against Bank Official	Saved Her Life, Says Woman
-------------------------------------	-------------------------------

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—Wyatt H. Ingraham Jr., the trust officer of the Hibernia Bank and Trust company of New Orleans, was arrested at his home last evening on the charge of being a defaulter. It is alleged that he is between $75,000 and $100,000 short in his accounts.

Ingraham, who was said to be too ill, was carried to police headquarters in an ambulance.

The trust officer is said to have confessed to Vice Pres. Poole of the Hibernia bank that his peculations would approximate $100,000. It is stated that a check for $50,000 on Ingraham forged the signature of a prominent business man of New Orleans, led to the disclosures.

Ingraham for a number of years has been a high business and social climber in New Orleans. He was a prominent club man, and has been a member of commercial organizations. He married here six months ago. He is a native of Kentucky and is 34 years old.

Officers of the bank state that the loss is not sufficient to affect the institution.

GREAT BARRINGTON, July 15.—Mrs. Frank Smith, wife of a Sheffield hotel proprietor, has dined forever the last of the social season's peach basket. Her testimony of the hat's value as a brain protector makes it plain from an attack on any other line and there are those who, since learning of her experience, already are convinced of the original value of the peach basket entitled to a conspicuous place in the hall of fame. Nay, more. They contend that while he is living he should be permitted to wear a Carnegie hero medal on his breast and another for a stolen coat.

Mrs. Smith insists that her life was saved by her handsome peach basket hat when she fell under an overturned automobile, and that but for the afore said "beachcomber" she might not now be living, and consequently would not be able to tell of her remarkable experience. She was in an automobile with Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dickson, summer residents of Sheffield, and when the automobile rolled over the edge of a hill near Salisbury, Conn. Another automobile was passing at the time.

It Mrs. Smith's head was pinned to the ground, but she claims that th

Princess lodge, I. O. O. of St. George, met in regular session Tuesday night and transacted considerable business. The following officers were installed for the ensuing term: President, Alce W. Wood; vice president, Rachel Holgate; recording secretary, Ann Hoyle; financial secretary, Lillian Fowler; treasurer, Martha Shannon; chaplain, Jennie Cutler; conductor, Georgia Rhodes; assistant conductor, Clara Hinton; inside guard, Annie Hill; outside guard, Lillian Norris; trustee for six months, Georgia Rhodes; trustee for 18 months, Sarah Aspin. They were installed by P. G. P. Sarah Greenwood, grand conductor, P. P. Alberta Tiltston, grand chaplain, P. G. P. Emma Duedale, grand inside guard, P. G. P. Annie Hollings, all from Lady Washington lodge, Lawrence. The D. D. G. P. presented the retiring past president, Jeannette Collins, a past president's gold pin. The officers' reports were read and showed the lodge to be in a good sound financial condition. There were remarks from the members from Lady Washington lodge of Lawrence. There were refreshments and a social hour.

WILL NOT RESIGN

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Manager Cantillon in a telegram received in this city last night denies that he intended to resign his leadership of the Washington Americans. Rumors of this intention have been afloat for some weeks.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was

15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Plott, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

What will the Smithsonian Institute gain by preserving the hides of animals that can be seen in the menagerie of any circus?

It is announced that a counterfeit $20 bill is in circulation. The great bulk of the holders have nothing to fear as they seldom see a $20 genuine or counterfeit bill.

The movement in some Massachusetts cities to compel men in the employ of the city to pay their poll tax is right and proper. They should be forced to pay.

When will our street car conductors find it unnecessary to shout "Go out by the forward door." The intelligent public should realize that time is saved by passing from a street car by the forward door. It prevents a jam in the rear door and is better for everybody.

WET DOWN CONGESTED DISTRICTS.

The fire department should be required to wet down the congested districts during the hot spell. Some of the poor people suffer terribly during the day, and the wetting of their houses and the streets in front would be a welcome relief. It would also make their abode more tolerable for the night.

ANOTHER LIFE LOST.

There has been another drowning in one of the canals. During the course of the summer the number is sure to run up to from six to ten. That is the number of lives lost in Lowell annually, because the people have no safe place in which to go bathing. It is one more reminder of the need of a system of public baths.

THAW WILL SOON BE FREE.

Harry K. Thaw, who escaped electrocution for the murder of Stanford White because certain alienists pronounced him insane, is likely soon to be set free. Everybody knew he wasn't insane when he committed the crime, and now the alienists will again deliver him, this time from the confinement prescribed for "an insane murderer." It is really strange how these alienists can change their minds, especially for a client who has plenty of money.

THE EVOLUTION OF POLITICAL HORN-BLOWERS.

Is the Luce law responsible for the evolution of the political horn-blower or is this noisy political genus responsible for discrediting that law? This is one of the uppermost questions of the hour.

Representative Garcelon of Newton is opposed to direct nominations. He thinks that the man with the loudest voice, the man who most severely denounces existing conditions and makes the most radical promises of reform can capture the nomination even though he be the most irresponsible and most unreliable individual in the community. He is right.

The present method affords too many facilities for gulling the people, for imposing upon the credulous and deceiving the voters. The reason is, that while the dishonest candidate will go around among the people making speeches in public places, protesting always his eminent honesty even when he is known to be a cunning and deceitful rascal, the honest and desirable candidate will not stoop to the street corner canvases; he will not make false charges against any particular interest, or any particular department in order to secure election under false pretences. Neither will he adopt the house to house method of canvassing votes, and if he adopts none of these methods then he will have no chance of election as the voters stand upon their dignity in accordance with the established custom and state that they will vote for the man who thought enough of their votes to come and ask for them.

Under the present method the people have the power to name their candidates, but they are not using it in such a way as to secure the best results. The people must soon discover how unscrupulously they have been humbugged, not only here but elsewhere in some of the men they have elevated to honorable positions. It may take a year or two to bring them to their senses but the day will come when they will realize how egregiously they have been mistaken.

The old convention method of nominating was open to its objections in being controlled mainly by politicians but these conventions nominated better candidates than does the new method. The reason is that the conventions were made up of delegates who knew the candidates, whereas no one-tenth of the voters know the real character or the ability of the candidates they vote for.

In order to make the direct method of nomination a success the people will have to guard against doing as they will have to turn down the candidate who comes up begging to be set on the voters into the belief that things are in a fearful condition, and call for just such a man as he to set them right.

The modern political campaign is more a showman than a public official. He has his press agent who looks him on all possible occasions, while the showman himself never loses an opportunity of making a grandstand play that bluffs a portion of the people into the belief that he is capable and honest.

Many of the public men who have recently attained prominence in public office have done so by these very methods. While in office the chief work they do is advertising themselves—horn-blowing so to speak.

The voters of Lowell and other cities will never get capable or honest men for public office until they turn down the political horn-blowers, whose main object is to attain public office and hold on to it by hook or crook, if necessary mislaid false issues to deceive the people and throw dust in the eyes of the public.

PEOPLE OF NOTE.

Mrs. A. J. George of Massachusetts is to go to England as a representative of the anti-suffragists of this country among the anti-suffragists of Great Britain. It is said that she has accepted an invitation to deliver an address giving an account of the suffrage movement in this country on condition that no one shall be allowed to reply.

Miss Agnes Salvey, superintendent of the general hospital at Toronto, has been selected to place a wreath on the tomb of Queen Victoria during the meeting of the international council of nurses which is to be held in London about the middle of this month. The wreath is to be a tribute to the works and character of the late queen from the Canadian National Association of Nurses.

Having disposed of many of his paintings and art objects, King Leopold of Belgium is said now to be placing the furniture of his palace on the market and naturally there is keen discussion as to his intentions. The favorite theory is that he intends to abdicate and go to Paris to live. His sales at home view the sale of the palace furniture with disapproval, contending that it is semi-public property, which is no more in his personal possession than the crown itself.

Judge Street of a Bucks county (Pa.) court, in charging the jury at a trial a few weeks ago, said: "While many apparently correct the fact, under the laws of this state every game played for a stake is gambling, whether it is poker, dice, bridge, whist, dominoes, checkers or dice, and is a violation of law, and the participants are liable to be indicted and convicted by the jury." Thereupon one of the lawyers drew from his pocket a newspaper containing an account of a whist party at which the judge's wife had won a prize. The judge laughed with the rest, but it is reported he was embarrassed.

The Alice Freeman Palmer fellowship of $1000 at Wellesley college has been won for the next academic year by Miss Gertrude Schaeffer, a Radcliffe college graduate student.

Miss Mabel K. Babcock of Wellesley Hills, Mass., was the only woman to receive the M. S. degree at the commencement of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She is a graduate of Wellesley college and took a degree in architecture at the Institute of Technology last year. Four other women received degrees from the department of architecture of the Institute this year.

Mrs. Henry Southwick of Brookline, formerly Jessie Eldridge, the reader, is a patient in the Providence hospital in Washington, D. C., as the result of an accident which happened when she was on her way south to join Mr. Southwick. It is probable that Mrs. Southwick will not be able for some weeks to return to her home in Brookline.

Gov. Draper has appointed Inspector Arthur E. Rogers of the Worcester police force to the position of chief of the department of the state police. Mr. Rogers was born in Clarence, N. S., June 5, 1853, and received an education in the schools of his native town to fit him for teaching. He taught in Hampton, Victoria, Port George, Salem, Margateville and Kingston, N. S. He came to Worcester in September, 1888. He was a member of the fire department until March, 1888. He resigned in 1892 to enter the employ of the Washburn & Moen company, where he remained until 1894, when he was appointed.

THEATRE LA SCALA

Today a new program will be offered at the Theatre La Scala and it will undoubtedly draw every one who goes it. This theatre is the best popular-priced theatre in this section. The admission of but five cents is so small that almost any kind of a program would do but the management does not look at it that way. Rather it tries to give its patrons just as good a show as is reasonable and it succeeds. Those who follow the motion pictures clearly know that nothing but new, bright and fresh films are shown here. The songs are well sung by the best singers that can be hired and the chore itself is just what one wants this hot weather for it is cool, clean and comfortable.

STAR THEATRE

A new talking picture and two new illustrated songs will be the features of today's offering at the Star theatre. On Wednesday there was a complete change of motion pictures, and another complete change will be made tomorrow.

Talking pictures have taken the place of the equal of any play ever staged. The characters in the picture speak and as a whole a connected story is told. With the motion pictures and songs "the show is the biggest and best in Lowell for five cents" which includes a star. Electric fans and excellent ventilating facilities serve to keep the interior cool and comfortable. Great care is exercised in the hiring and cleaning of the theatre.

CANOBIE LAKE THEATRE

The heat of yesterday drove many to Canobie lake and the improved outdoor theatre had many patrons. "A Night at the Chinese," which is the attraction this week, has made a decided hit, and the members of the Canobie Comedy company met with an appreciative reception.

The comedies are produced under the direction of William Clifton, one of the leading characters of the company. Mr. Clifton is a versatile artist and his specialties are very cleverly executed. The Atlas quartet comes in for hearty applause and never fails to elicit recalls, while the singing of Miss Cornwall, Miss Stafford and Miss Miller is artistic, bright and entertaining. Ten Brooks and Sherman. We carry the heavy comedy parts and their work is clever, surrounded as it is with the lighter parts of the younger people in the comedy, making of the whole just the sort of entertainment to pass an hour away from in a most comfortable and safe place. The orchestra is another improvement this year which does much to brighten up the show and giving a good background to the singing party.

Meals, J. Fred Less and John F. Adams, the lessees of the theatre are catering to the comfort of the public as well as to their entertainment and big audiences will be the rule from now on throughout the hot weather.

The shows are held twice daily, at 2:15 and 5 p. m. Don't miss the show this week. Sunday evening moving pictures and musical features.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Not to be in any way outdone in fashion by the Broadway show and signals, Agnes Lee of the Lynn stock company now playing at Lakeview theatre, will wear in one act of next week's play, the latest frunk in style, a pantalon gown fashioned after the New York model and which is a combination of the ancient bloomer and the full skirt, semi-detached garment that is said to be striking in the extreme. It was rumored on the square that Agnes was seen wearing this startling garment on Merrimack street, but Business Manager Maguire of the theatre, denies the statement but says he will shortly have the dress on exhibition in one of the large show windows of the town, but if one wishes to see the charming Agnes wear the gown, a visit to Lakeview theatre must be made.

BREEZY POINT.

Lady Franklin, 17, and the Busy Bee circles, Daughters of Liberty, united in a picnic at Breezy Point, Tuesday, with a large attendance. A long list of sports was run off in the afternoon, after a basket luncheon had been served, and after the sports more refreshments were served.

In the evening dancing was enjoyed and the party arrived home at a late hour. The only mishap of the day was when one of the men lost his Panama hat in the water, but as that article was recovered, no one has any fault to find.

TO USE BUGS

TO STAMP OUT THE MOTH PEST

It takes bugs to fight bugs—according to the Massachusetts Gypsy Moth Commission, and yesterday the Commissioner's laboratory on Highland avenue, Melrose, fairly swarmed with parasites of various sorts, destined eventually to devour the caterpillars of the gypsy and brown toll moths.

Calasoma beetles from France and Germany, Ichneumonids from Spain and a variety of parasites from Japan are among the kinds in training at Melrose.

There is a fly whose fly which deposits its eggs in the backs of the caterpillars. These eggs hatch after the caterpillars have entered the cocoon, and the larvae burrow into the body and kill the caterpillar. The Ichneumonids are not in a similar fashion.

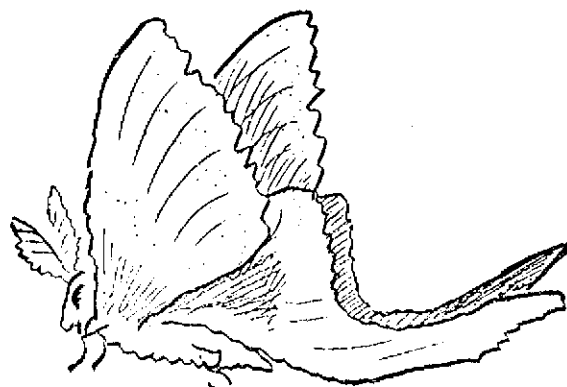

The brown toll moths arrived in countless swarms two days ago from New Hampshire, so that last night almost all the trees in the vicinity of Boston were covered with their eggs. The situation is, however, not so bad as it might be, as the moth commission, know that they were coming and were ready. The area invaded by the pests is considerably more restricted than formerly.

SKETCH OF THE LUNA BUG.

BEAUTIFUL BUG

FOUND BY MR. CHARLES, GARDENER FOR C. I. HOOD

Mr. George Charles, gardener for C. I. Hood, is so thoroughly versed on the names and properties of plants and flowers that he seldom meets anything so that he can name it. Although he is also a skilled chronologist, he admits that the bugs are so numerous that he cannot distinguish them all. The other day he found a very large and beautiful specimen of the luna bug on Sherman street, and was rather uncertain as to what family it belonged to. It was larger than the largest butterfly, had the beautiful comb in front that characterize certain kinds of the bug family and it had side wings of green edged with red, while the two wings on the back were large and tapering to the end after the style of wings usually assigned to the cicadas. Being uncertain as to the proper name of this particular bug, Mr. Charles referred it to Supt. Whittier, who at once recognized it as of the Luna species, but said it was one of the most beautiful he had ever seen. It is not one of the bugs that constitute a pest, being comparatively harmless and not very numerous.

Mr. Charles has made a study of
